Southwest Orthopaedic Trauma Association's Current Controversies in Orthopaedic Trauma course is designed to provide a review of current trends in the practice of orthopaedic surgery, as it relates to the treatment of trauma. This CME program provides a focused forum for discussion of seven current, orthopaedic trauma controversies based on new clinical information and concepts. It also addresses changing trends that impact orthopaedic surgeons taking trauma call who also provide emergency room follow-up. In addition, there will be an opportunity for participants to submit challenging cases for discussion at the end of the program.

Who Should Attend
This conference is designed to update the knowledge base of practicing orthopaedic surgeons and allied health providers.

Objectives
At the conclusion of the conference, participants should be able to:
1) Distinguish the current surgical indications for plates and nails for proximal femur fractures.
2) List the risks in surgical exposure of the scapular body.
3) Know the recommended timing of removal of the AO/ASIF plates.
4) List the algorithm for evaluation and treatment of the pediatric distal humerus fracture or loose débris seen with arterial injury.
5) Distinguish the clinical presentation of compartment syndrome from arterial injury and other traumatic conditions.
6) Recognize indications for referral in the mangled hand.
