The AETC-sponsored New Mexico Annual HIV & HCV Conference will be held at Hotel Albuquerque on April 26-27, 2018. The theme of this year's one-and-a-half day conference is "Addressing Disparities". Sessions will include discussions of clinical best practices for screening, prevention, and treating infections with HIV & HCV and common comorbid substance use and mental health disorders. Sessions will include specific focus on integrating the roles of the interprofessional healthcare team.

Learning Objectives:
1. Have a better understanding of the best practices for screening, preventing, and treating HIV & HCV infections.
2. Gain an understanding of the socioeconomic and cultural factors influencing the care of those at risk for and infected with HIV and HCV.
3. Recognize the roles of various members of the interprofessional healthcare team in prevention, screening, linkage to care, and retention in care.
